

The School District of Clay County encourages all children to READ, READ, READ this summer!

Below you will find an "At-Home Reading List" for each grade level. There are many, many good books out there. These lists are just suggestions of appropriate books.

Parents are also encouraged to read to and with their children to promote growth in their child's reading ability. Please encourage your child to read sometimes "all by him or herself," and at other times to read a book with you. All children enjoy listening to stories, so please make this activity a consistent part of your daily plan.
